Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Intern - Software Development position at Itransition Software Bangladesh Ltd., as advertised on Bdjobs. As a Computer Science and Engineering student at AIUB, I am particularly interested in this role because of Itransition's global reputation for developing innovative IT solutions and its strong focus on continuous learning, which perfectly aligns with my career goals.

My academic coursework and hands-on projects have prepared me to contribute to your development team from day one. Through my CSE studies, I have developed a solid understanding of web-development principles and gained basic knowledge of JavaScript and .NET. For instance, I recently designed a "Zero Hunger" management system to help an NGO automate their food collection and distribution workflow. In this project, I applied a 3-tier architecture, developed APIs, and designed the underlying database with proper entity validation. Furthermore, my experience volunteering at the AIUB Computer Club's CSFest has strengthened my teamwork and communication skills, equipping me to collaborate effectively in fast-paced, project-driven environments like yours.

I would appreciate an opportunity to discuss how my technical foundation and drive to learn could support Itransition's upcoming projects. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Md. Sayeed Alam
